

Contents:

From the editors, .....	1
Editor's foreword, .....	2
 Articles
Alina Henzel-Korzeniowska, Lacanian theory and its uses in the psychoanalytic process .....	5-15
Paul Moyaert, On sublimation in Lacan: a few remarks, .....	16-36
Anna Turczyn, The genuine subject in psychoanalytical experience according to Jacques Lacan, .....	37-50
Bogna Choińska, Freud, Lacan and the dilemmas of psychoanalysis, .....	51-62
Ewa Nowak, Shechita. A study of the origins, practice and transspecies ethics of killing, .....	63-85
Janusz Maj, Teaching the word through the word. The seminar "The Myths of (Post)Modern Europe" as an educational model applied in Autorskie Licea Artystyczne i Akademickie [Authorial Artistic and Academic Secondary Schools] in Wrocław, .....	86-97
 Book Reviews
Marta Szabat, Lacan through the eyes of Badiou and Roudinesco, .....	98-101
Katarzyna Pelczarska, Education, or the fiction of the Polish education system, .....	102-107
 Class scenarios
Katarzyna Pelczarska, "We know ourselves only insofar as we have been tested" – our personal image and its complexity, based on Joseph Conrad's Lord Jim, .....	108-110
Jan Piasecki, What is the concept of free will? A class from "Elementary Ethics" for medical students, .....	111-113
Marta Szabat, Father and son. Who are they and who should they be to each other?, .....	114-116